SUMMARY

I am a software developer who has a passion for finding efficient and effective solutions to complex puzzles. My motivations are inspired by a deep enthusiasm for applying my critical thinking skills to new and ambitious projects. I excel at problem solving in a fast paced challenging environment.

I recently relocated to Colorado seeking new opportunities and to further my personal development. I discovered programming in my last year of college, developed an interest in software development and enrolled in Turing School of Software and Design. I am drawn to the practical challenges inherent in the technology industry and am eager to engage them in my career.

EMPLOYMENT

Chicken Charlies Rotisserie and Grill · Supervisor · Burlington, VT

When I began working at Chicken Charlie's I was a delivery driver. Through my commitment to providing quality service to customers, I quickly became an essential member of the team. I was given a supervisory position in which I was responsible for leading a team of eight employees in a fast paced environment.

Employment Solutions LLC · Administrative Assistant · Washington, DC

In this position I was responsible for providing technical and administrative support to a leading EEOC investigator. My duties included putting together exhibits for a report of investigation, organizing documents in a meticulous manner, and communicating with witnesses, complainants, and supervisors to schedule interviews.
